

The Language of Encouragement

“A child needs encouragement like a child needs water”

~ Rudolph Dreikurs

- Thanks, that was a big help
- I trust your judgment
- This is a difficult problem, but I believe that you can work it out
- You worked hard on that!
- You're getting better at writing all the time
- You can do it!
- You worked hard, you deserve it
- Look at all the colours you used on your picture
- Look how far you've come, you can do it
- You figured it out all by yourself
- I appreciate your help
- You must be proud of yourself
- How do you feel about it?
- I have faith in you to learn from your mistakes
- You can decide what's best for you
- You did your best and you didn't give up
- Look how much effort you put into that
- Do you have some suggestions?

- Tell me about it
- Let's do it together
- That was really helpful
- Thanks for being with me
- I really enjoyed listening to you play
- I can see that you are having a lot of fun doing that
- I bet you feel good about that
- Way to go!
- It took courage to do what you did
- I'd like to hear your ideas
- It feels good when you succeed doesn't it?
- Hang in there, you're getting it
- Just look at the progress you've made
- Tell me about your picture
- I've love to hear your story
- You've been using your imagination and created this original...
- That took a lot of tries, but you got there in the end
- You felt nervous but you faced your fears
- I really appreciated your help in the garden
- You've been practicing a lot and today you got to see your progress
- I'd like to hear your ideas
- I can see that took a lot of patience
- I can see that you've spent hours working on this
